Time is Too slow for those who wait,
Too swift for those who fear,
Too long for those who grieve,
Too short for those who rejoice,
But for those who love, time is Eternity.
Hours fly,
Flowers die,
New days
New ways
Pass by.
Love stays.

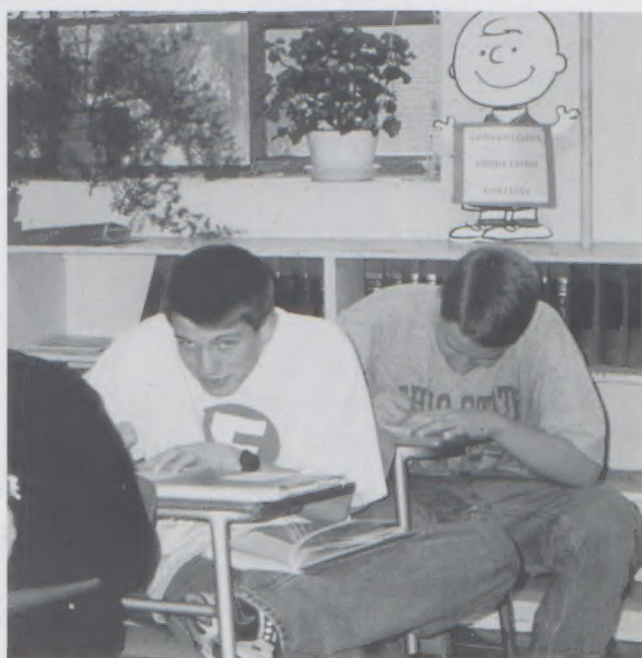

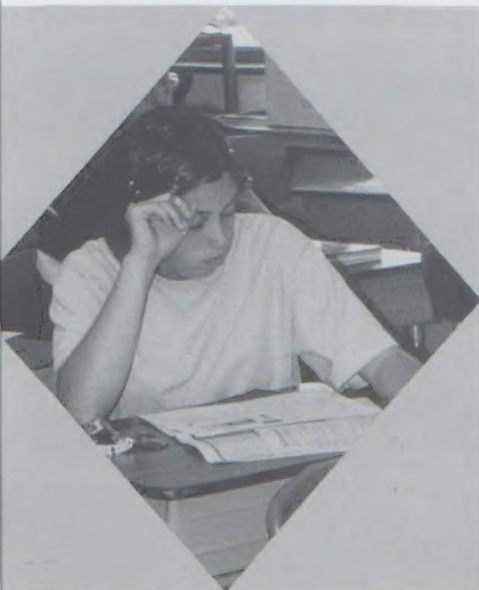

As we begin our journey into the unknown future we leave behind the good times, the bad times, friendships, and the memories. We will always hold a special place in our hearts for classmates Michael Burkhardt and Brittany Ling. We would like to dedicate this yearbook to them in loving memory.

We hope that this Manhigan will be used as a time capsule to commemorate the athletic events, school activities, Prom, and Graduation. We would like to extend our gratitude and farewells to all those who contributed to the creation of this yearbook. Without the strong support of the Manhigan staff under Hurst's direction this yearbook could not have been a success. As the school yearbook staff, we were given the extensive task of capturing the events and presenting them in a memorable fashion.

We entered high school with anticipation and uncertainty of where the next four years would take us. As June 6, 1998 approached the feeling of anticipation returned with the opportunities of college, work, service, and starting a family. All we have left are memories and through this book of history we have captured them. We would like to wish our many friends and classmates the best of luck wherever the journey leads them.

One Last Look: Class of 2001

Who is your craziest teacher?

"Mr. Dennis because he gets extremely excited and happy about the smallest things." — Josh Morgan

"Mr. Jackson because he makes me laugh and I can always be happy when I go to his class." — Janelle Hairston

"Mr. Maul because he's always talking about weird things that have nothing to do with science like: what color does a smurf turn when you strangle him?" — Erin Bistline

"Mrs. Shambaugh because yesterday she crawled around on the floor under a desk pretending she was in a storm of Nair hair removal." — Abby Linne

"Mrs. Justis because she makes class fun." — Delores Fortson

Meghan Walls —
Pooh, you've grown up right before our eyes. How quickly the years have passed. We love you!
Love, Mom, Dad, and David

Bryan Preston —
Hey, Hot Dog! Here's wishing you smooth cruising through the bumps of life. May your jumps be plentiful and your landings equal in number.
Love, Mom, Dad, and Burt

Kevin O'Neill —
Here you are graduating from Kindergarten and now high school. We are so proud of you!

Kim McGinty —
Smiles... you have provided us many while you were growing up! We would also like to thank you for all the special moments you have given us and for being the person you are. We are very proud of you and want to wish you success and happiness as you move forward and explore more of life's challenges.
We love you, Mom and Dad

Amy Bartelheim —

Amy, we know you will continue to brighten the lives of others as you have ours. You have a wonderful future ahead. God bless you!

Love, Mom, Dad, and Laura

Lissa Crawford —

As you step out into the world remember . . . we believe in you . . . the unique, special, one of a kind person that you are. Continue to be yourself, but be your best self and live each day to the fullest. Then you will be able to cherish the past and look forward with confidence.

We love you, Mom and Dad

Shane Bagley —

Your journey is just beginning... Good luck, baby! We love you, son.

Love, Mom and Dad

Amanda Warren —

How the years have gone by! We are so proud of you. Much love, Mom, Dad, and sisters

Leslie Ann Ward —

You were smiling when you were younger. You will be smiling at graduation. We pray you can always smile. Good luck on your next phase of life. We are very proud of you. We love you very much.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Tiffany, and Amber

Amy Kay —

You have made us so proud to be your parents! Thanks for being creative, independent, responsible, smart, and fun — you are the light of our lives. (Now will you promise not to put us in the rest home next year?!?)

Love, Mom and Dad

Andy Laderman —

Good luck, Andy!
Love, Mom and Dad

Michelle Lynn Cook —

You are the sunshine of our lives! Good luck in the future always! We love ya, Shell-Bug.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Heather

Betty Carver —

Such a beautiful baby, such a beautiful young lady. You have come so far and yet have far to go. We know you will do it. We're proud of you, honey.

Love, Dad, Mom, D.J., Shaun, and Amber

Megan Frantz —

Memories are good, but dreams are better. We're proud of you, Megan.

Love, Dad and Mom

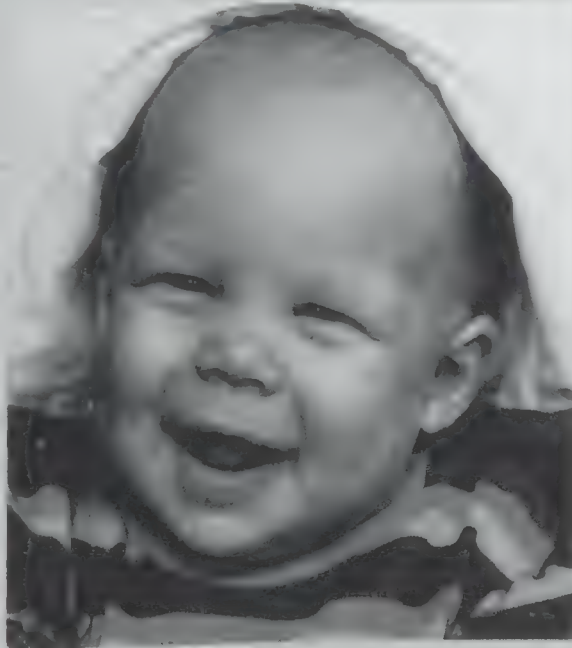

Kara Kozimor —

Always so many choices in life through the years, from ice cream flavors to careers! We're proud of the independent young lady you've become. We love you!

You're the best!

Love, Mom and Dad

Holli Jacobs —

Way to go, Holli-Wally! You can reach and accomplish all those goals you have set for yourself. We are very proud of you!! Congratulations!

Love, Dad, Mom, and Jeremy

Final comments for the class of 1998:

"These high school days were NOT the best days of your life — you figure out more and more about yourself and about this planet as the years pass by. Be kind to yourself and be proud of what you've accomplished." — Mrs. Kay

"Don't say we didn't warn you!" — Mr. Black

"As advisor of the class of 1998, I have observed this class overcome tragedies and disappointments, blossom from accomplishments and joys, and develop into mature young adults." — Mrs. Stefaneh

"May god bless your future and use you mightily." — Mr. Kentosh

"Be persistent in following your dreams." — Mrs. Proffitt

"Whatever your goal or dream is, FIGHT FOR IT!" — Ms. Walter

"Remember Thoreau's words: I would rather sit on a pumpkin and have it all to myself than to be crowded on a velvet cushion." — Miss Hurst

Tygers make season a learning experience

"I believe each season you are successful in some aspect. Many inexperienced players met the challenge in the off season. The hard work paid dividends. Our kids challenged each opponent and as a result were respected as student athletes," commented Coach Rowe.

Even though the Tygers had a disappointing season of two wins and eight losses, many claimed it was a learning experience. Jerome Taylor stated, "You can't survive on talent alone; it's the intangibles, the little things that go with it that count." Bobby Watkins expressed that patience and leadership helped him deal with the challenging season and made him grow into a stronger and better person.

The victory over Marion Harding revived spirit in the Tygers. The first quarter touchdown by Jer-mee Butts gave the defense the strength to hold off the Presidents for an 8 - 0 win. "Beating Marion Harding was a high point because of the strong rivalry and strong OHC implications," proclaimed Matt Soliday. The team finished the season with a victory over Lexington.

The Tygers received many honors. Issac Melton received OHC Defensive Player of the year, first team Northwest District, and State honors. First team OHC went to Earl Dandy, Matt Soliday, and Jermaine Taylor.

For the Tiger awards, Most Valuable Player went to Issac Melton. Jermaine Bradley and Dave Davis received Most Improved award. The Jimo Adams honor went to Earl Dandy. Tony Allen, Jared Butts, Jermee Butts, Earl Dandy, and Bobby Watkins took home the Captains' awards.

Coach Jefferson remarked, "Thanks to the student body, staff, and support staff for the backing of the team and players during the season." On a winning note, the Tygers captured the OHC championship for the first time in four years by Amber Dewiel, Mike LaFlamme, and Amy Bartelheim.

Tygers succeed when they "Believe"

"Believe!" was the motto for the Tygers' volleyball team and it brought them great achievement. Their success was evident in the number of wins compared to previous years. While aiming for four wins, the Tygers exceeded their goal with five victories. Their accomplishments were a result of stronger coaching, unified teamwork, and a firm desire to win.

Coach Rick Smith helped improve the team with his coaching style. Senior Carrie Layfield replied, "The practices were more structured which allowed us to come together as a team." Although his coaching methods were stern and involved strenuous drills, the Tygers still had fun.

"People understood their roles on the team and what they needed to accomplish in order to be successful," commented senior Megan Frantz. That was the key to winning their first OHC game in four years against Ashland. Although the girls were defeated by Madison, they held on for a strong finish of 15-5 and 15-11. Junior Jenny Davis remarked, "Beating Crestview was memorable because they had remained undefeated the past two years."

The Most Valuable Player award was presented to Megan Frantz. Jenny Davis received Most Improved while Frantz and Carrie Layfield received the Captains' award. Finally, Missie Feltner and Jodi Dean captured the Coach's award.

The team was young and inexperienced, but that did not stop their competitiveness. With strong coaching, the Tygers proved that "BELIEVing" in themselves could lead to victory.

Boys capture strong finish

"Our regular season was disappointing, but our performance in the play-offs made it worthwhile," replied Captain Chris Stull. This was the feeling that carried the boys' soccer team through the season. The Tygers did not have as good of a season as they had expected, but when they entered the tournaments unity among the players developed. Junior Matt Adair commented, "When we began the tournaments we played some of our best games of the season."

Hard work and determination led the Tygers to the sectional finals which was the farthest any previous Mansfield team had advanced. Although they were defeated at the finals, the team achieved their goal of playing to their potential throughout the play-offs. Captain Kevin Wharton and Goalie Kevin Uhde remarked, "Our most memorable moment occurred in the play-off game against Sandusky. We went into a shoot out and won 5-3 which advanced us to the sectional final match."

The Most Valuable Player award was given to Kevin Wharton who led the Ohio

Heartland Conference in scoring and total points. Chad Hock received the Most Improved award as a result of entering the team as a first year player and greatly improving over the course of the season. The Coach award was appointed to senior Bryan Preston who was a major factor for the defense. Chris Stull and Kevin Wharton received the Captains' award.

At the conclusion of the season, Wharton was named to the first team all-conference and Uhde was chosen for the second team all-conference. Hock and Preston finished off with Honorable Mention.

Unity helps girls overcome setbacks

"Even though our record didn't show success, we were proud of the hard work we produced throughout the season," replied Avi Lovette. The season ended with the record of 7 - 8 - 1. This was the first time in five years the girls didn't break even.

The players suffered many injuries that ranged from broken legs to concussions. Many of these injuries occurred at crucial times which contributed to their unsuccessful season. The players relied on natural skills as well as help from their teammates to pull them through the season.

Junior Julie Laux replied, "The underclassmen will need to step up to form a strong team for next year." Losing ten seniors will prove to be a challenge for the next season. The team was led by senior captains Kim McGinty, Joanne Tiffney, and Amy Bartelheim. "For the first time we were able to realize that unity was the key to getting through the tough times," remarked the senior captains.

Team awards were honored to Kim McGinty for Most Valuable Offensive Player and Emily Exten for Most Valuable Defensive Player. Laura Warner received the Most Improved Award.

OHC recognitions were given to McGinty and Pam Prinz for First Team. Exten and Kim Roscoe received Second Team. Honorable Mention was given to Joanne Tiffney and Traci Mask. Second Team All-District was captured by McGinty. by Kim McGinty and Sara O'Bryan

Runners show strength and advance to State

"Our training program developed by coach Jackson helped us reach our peak performance level," replied junior Tim Drouhard. This program led the cross country team to a remarkable season.

For the boys, the advancement to State was the highlight of the season. Junior Nick Dewald commented, "When we found out that we qualified for State we realized our hard work and dedication finally paid off." Dewald finished 43rd and Drouhard placed 60th out of 184 State competitors. As a team, the boys placed 12th out of 16 teams.

Girls' coach Miss Herr remarked, "We had a young team. This was a rebuilding season and I expect a lot from the girls in the next two to three years." Coach Herr also commented that Ashland served as their biggest rival due to their strength.

Many runners were honored for their accomplishments. The captain leading the team were Kari Drouhard and Nick Dewald. Both athletes received Most Valuable Player awards. The Most Improved awards went to Tony Schmitt and Summer Lewis. Kari Slinely was honored with Coach's award along with Katie Jones. The third year Buddy Award was presented to Kari Drouhard.

The boys' team had several Academic All Ohio winners. The State participants with a 3.5 or higher grade point average were Tim Drouhard, Nick Dewald, Daris Brown, and Sebastian Behling. They were presented by Carrie Layfield and Kari McGinty.

Tygers look for motivation

"To have fun and improve my golf game was my goal," commented sophomore Richard Sigg. The Tyger golf team consisted of eight boys and two girls.

The Tygers began practice in late July and kept going from there. Their first match was the OHC warm-up. This event was held at Brookside Golf Club in Ashland. "The season could have gone better if people would have taken it more seriously," commented Amy McIntire. One underclassman whose practice and dedication paid off this season was freshman Matt Hunter. Hunter was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player award given each year to the player who contributes the most to the team.

Cameron Haring commented that practice was the only way to improve. He obviously exercised his thoughts because he was the recipient of the Most Improved award this season. This award is given to the player who shows the most improvement throughout the season. Bryon Briggs rounded out the awards at the banquet when he received the Coach's award given by head coach Scott Jones.

Steven Stauffer remarked that the team could have been more successful if their attitudes were a little more positive. Stauffer also agreed that more practice would have benefited the team during the home stretch of the season. "With a strong line up of underclassmen, the Tygers look to capitalize next season," replied Stauffer. by Joanne Tiffney and Andrew Goosman

Lady Tygers roar against Lexington rivals

The Lady Tyger tennis squad pulled off one of its most successful seasons. The players achieved more wins than losses along with a big win over OHC rival Lexington. Another highlight involved sending two girls to the district tournament in Bowling Green.

The huge victory over Lexington was the girls' favorite triumph. Going into the match against Lexington, the Tygers were 5 - 2. They looked to add to their wins, but realized they had not beaten the Minutemaids in several years. Coach Bacquet replied, "In order to surpass the Lexington team, the girls needed to raise the levels of their games to obtain a win and they accomplished that." Helping the Lady Tygers reach this long awaited victory were Jackie Bell, Rachel Stein, and Shannon Smith. Stein and Smith both had a strenuous three-set match, but their endurance seemed to prevail. The conquest led to more advances and continued even into the post-season.

The sectional tournament held in Sandusky sent two qualifiers, Bell and Stein, to the district tournament held at BGSU. Heading toward the tournament, the girls experienced one technical difficulty. The team van caught on fire. The fire was a minor obstacle for Bell and Stein and didn't stop them from competing in the district tournament.

The collaboration helped the team obtain a special unity. "We became great friends which sometimes distracted us from focusing on practice," said Sara Kohler.

Awards went to Stein for the Most Valuable Player. The Coach's award and Captain's award were given to Bell. Smith took home the Most Improved award.

The Lady Tygers roared louder this season. Their conquest over Lexington was a real confidence booster which helped the team obtain an 11 - 4 record. "Sending two players to districts was a plus. With such strong unity among the team, we hope to grow even stronger. Things look more hopeful for next season," proclaimed Bell. by Jackie Bell and Joanne Tiffney

Juniors present "A Night to Remember"

"What a success!" agreed both junior class advisors Mr. Gerhard and Mrs. Bellew. It was truly "A Night to Remember" at Mansfield Senior High. The entire Homecoming weekend from the assembly preparations to the dance went smoothly. "The students were cooperative during the assembly and I didn't hear any negative comments about the entire weekend. I was so pleased," exclaimed Mrs. Bellew. According to the advisors, the festivities wouldn't have gone so well if it wasn't for the tremendous amount of help from the junior class.

"The Crowning of the Queen" was a poem written by junior Andy Alt. Rashida Rawls and Adam William (Mistress and Master of Ceremonies) read the poem after Queen Amy Bartelheim was crowned. "I felt so honored to be chosen to represent my senior class. Being crowned queen will be the most memorable moment of my high school years! In addition, I enjoyed working with all of the other court members," remarked Amy.

The attendants chosen to represent the court were: freshman Katie Mayo escorted by Todd Basilone; sophomore Monyetta Porter escorted by Jermaine Taylor; junior Nyshia Brooks escorted by Jared Butts; senior Amy Bartelheim escorted by Bryan Preston; senior Tanisha Jones escorted by Curtis Banks; and senior LaShawnda Mack escorted by Kenyata Singleton.

Mrs. Bellew concluded, "I wish to congratulate the court members and to thank all of those students who made this Homecoming a weekend to remember." by Jessica Mosey and Amy Bartelheim “Fever” strikes again!

In early November, a strange and unexplained “fever” swept through the halls of Mansfield Senior High School. Witnesses say that the students went home on the night of Thursday, November 6, and rumaged through their parents’ closets. They then chose the ugliest outfits they could find and planned to wear these the next day. These clothes were the same ones that the students had laughed at for years.

On Friday morning, it was quite a sight to see. The students were dressed in groups; some of them represented the same era. Matt Carbetta and Chad Page, in their polyester leisure suits, were spotted with Shane Bagley, the “gangster”. Dan McClain, with his oversized tie and striped and plaid suit, was rumored to have looked like a used car salesman. There were also some flower children, a few hippies, and a couple ladies dressed in poodle skirts and bobby socks. Amanda Hornung wore lime green, yellow, and white “slacks” with a matching shirt: truly hideous!

Mrs. Kay, Student Council advisor, has studied this annual “fever” for about five years. She explained, “Students simply enjoy laughing at each other.” This year’s dance turned out approximately 100 students decked out in the retro garb. Awards were given out to the student dressed the best (or actually the worst) for each era. Diana Graves won the award for the best 20’s outfit. Her royal blue fringe made quite an impression.

It was rumored that the students actually spent money on these clothes at shops such as Goodwill and the Salvation Army. Student Council president Diana Graves commented, “Everyone had a good time.” Be careful! More students may come down with the “fever” next year. Depth captures OHC crown "Play hard, play smart, and play together!" With this goal set in mind, the Tyger basketball team had another challenging and successful season. From the summer workouts to the tournaments, the boys emphasized team play and accomplished their goal of becoming OHC champs.

The Tygers had many expectations to meet coming into the season. With four returning lettermen and a large senior class they boasted much experience. Coach Gregg Collins stated, "We had a well rounded team with everyone being capable of scoring."

The Tygers were able to accomplish many goals that were set at the start of the season. One of these goals was to beat all of the teams that they lost to last season. Senior Maurice Sykes explained, "Our hard work off season proved to be successful during the season."

Senior Dashawn Luttrell said his most memorable moment was beating Massillon Washington in overtime. Another memorable moment for the seniors was beating Marion Harding at the last home game making them undefeated on their home court. The season ended in a hard-fought overtime battle against Sandusky in the District Semi-Finals.

Off season achievements were racked up by Marquis Sykes. He captured first team OHC, first team Northwest District, and Special Mention All-Ohio. Antwyan Reynolds was also selected first team OHC; Dashawn Luttrell and Maurice Sykes were placed second team OHC. MVP went to Marquis Sykes and Most Improved went to Maurice Sykes. The Vern Hoffman Award went to Antwyan Reynolds. The Captains' Awards were given to Maurice Sykes and Antwyan Reynolds.

Unity overcomes challenges

"We knew this season was going to be a challenge for us due to the fact that the team had no height," stated senior Megan Frantz. There was no one over six feet tall. Expectations were low at the beginning of the season, but the Lady Tygers ended with a winning record of 12-10 which included two OHC wins over rivals Madison and Lexington. Tygers were guided under senior captain Megan Frantz and sophomore captain Niesha Lindsay. The Lady Tygers were led by eight seniors nicknamed the "Great Eight." The team also had three outstanding sophomores. "The sophomores helped to lead the team as much as anyone else. We depended on each other," commented senior Rachel Ferrari. Team unity was an important quality for these Tygers. Their uniformity made them realize that they could accomplish anything as long as they played as a team.

On senior night, the seniors received the opportunity to join forces in the victory against Sandusky. This 97-47 victory ended the season with a bang. Each senior had nothing but positive words to describe their devoted coach of four years, Andrea Thompson. "Coach Thompson instilled in us important values which we will carry over into the future," expressed Kim McGuinty.

The Most Valuable Player award went to Dionne Goodwin. Niesha Lindsay and Megan Frantz took home the Captains' awards. Receiving the Coaches' award was Kim McGuinty and Tebony Reed achieved Most Improved. Those returning as third year varsity players were Megan Frantz, Kim McGuinty, and Terra Beard.

Spirit intensifies as challenges arise

The crowd roared, the lights gleamed, and the ball players attacked. Who really created the spirit? This intensity came from the cheerleaders! When the crowd and the teams needed reinforcement, the cheerleaders sustained unending spirit.

The cheerleaders set many goals for the season but one stood out most of all. They all commented that they wanted to have “more spirit” in the up-coming years. Megan Livingston stated, “Whitney Braggs and Da'Ren Brooks were the most spirited.” Both seniors, Braggs and Brooks, had cheered since their freshmen year. “Being on the squad was like having a second family and when I leave Sr. High, I’ll be leaving my sisters,” commented Brooks.

A new challenge arrived mid-season when the girls lost their coach.

This challenge was overcome by the gain of a new coach along with a student spirit club, decorated hallways, and many new cheers.

Members of the team unanimously felt that they would never forget the time they spent learning new cheers and meeting new people at the summer camps. “The camps gave us an opportunity to work with many different people,” said Melissa McPeck. The OHC win against Marion proved to be one of Livingston’s fondest memories due to the fact it was the first win of the football season. McPeck found this huge victory against Madison to be the highlight of her basketball season because the game was won at Sr. High’s home court.

The conclusion of the season brought awards to Livingston and Moriah McIntosh. Livingston received the Most Valuable and Most Spirited awards. McIntosh took home the Most Improved award by Jackie Bell and Angie Chinn.

Tygers are small but MIGHTY

Five o'clock a.m. swimming practices were unmerciful but that did not stop the boys' will to succeed. Although lack of size pummeled the team, the Tygers excelled in individual accomplishments and solid friendships.

"Without the large team, it was difficult to win," commented Richard Sigg. Having only eight boys, the Tygers were compelled to strive for personal aspirations and expectations. Rather than focusing on not being able to win, they glorified personal accomplishments as a means of motivation.

The team accomplished many goals during the season. "My individual accomplishments were gaining better times in my backstroke and 50 free style" commented Nick Dewald. Coupled with improved times, the advancement of all boy swimmers to the District meet held at BGSU was a pinnacle achievement. The team consented that beating Marion in the last relay to clench the victory was the highlight of the season.

Brian Vander Naald exclaimed, "They had twice the number of swimmers and it was really intense."

"There wasn't time to be enemies. If there were disagreements, the whole team suffered" proclaimed Andrew Goosman. Throughout the year, the boys developed a comradery which aided in achieving their goals.

Captain Tim Kulka received the Most Valuable Swimmer and Captain's awards. Kevin Vander Naald was the recipient of the Most Improved Swimmer award.

The season proved to be filled with many challenges; nevertheless, it blossomed with personal successes. The Tygers did not allow size to hinder their performance; they aimed for the heavens and flourished.

Tygers overcome sickness with pride

Success is not permanent. Failure is not fatal. These were the words that greeted the girls on the day after their second heartbreaking loss to Ashland.

After last year's 11 - 0 record and OHC and Sectional titles, the girls were riding high coming into the season. Gaining two freshmen and one sophomore overshadowed losing three seniors to graduation. After 18 straight wins, the girls' streak ended. Coach Frank Bartholow remorsefully uttered, "We had not been totally healthy since the beginning of January."

"Despite the effect that sickness had on the team our spirit and unity pushed us forward," stated Carrie Layfield. During the most important mid - season weeks most of the team was absent from the water due to the flu. This epidemic of sorts hindered the team as a whole.

Overcoming her team's heartbreaking OHC defeat, freshman Amy Hohenberger was voted OHC Swimmer of the Year after winning the 100 fly and 100 breast. She also helped the medly relay and the 200 free relay. Also taking home victories were Katie Finnerty in the 100 back and Joanne Tiffney in the 500 free.

Not fully healthy, the girls took 19 swimmers to the Sectionals. From there ten more advanced to Districts held in Bowling Green. Showing a strong finish, the girls placed fifth at this meet and diver Leah Kolb advanced to the State meet for the third year in a row. She also received the Most Valuable Diver after finishing ninth. Receiving the Most Valuable Swimmer was Amy Hohenberger and Most Improved went to Tara Duffy. Finally, setting new records were Katie Finnerty in the 100 free, Amy Hohenberger in the 100 breast, and Leah Kolb in diving.

Young team pushes forward

"The season got off to a rocky start because the wrestlers had to adapt to a new style of coaching and were confronted with having a small number of players," remarked Coach Gerhardt. Another disadvantage was having no senior leadership on the team.

Junior Chad Dunham stated that having a young team and a new coaching staff were factors that contributed to the team lacking in strength. The small number of players also made it hard for individual improvement because they had to wrestle the same teammates every practice. In a sport that needs at least fourteen wrestlers to be competitive, only nine finished the season.

"The biggest disadvantage for me this year, as a coach, was getting the kids to believe in my system and ideas about wrestling," replied

Coach Lehman. The wrestlers struggled to get used to the new system and although it took time they found the system worked better for them. Demetrius Goodwin felt fortunate to have coaches Lehman and Gerhardt pushing them and keeping them going every step of the way.

The end of the season brought special recognition of accomplishments to various individuals. Sophomore Ryan Shiplett and freshman Steve Warner received the Most Improved award. The Coaches' award went to junior Brandon Barker and Chad Dunham was presented with the Captain's award.

Overcoming the small team and having a new coaching staff enabled the team to grow together throughout the season. Coach Lehman plans to start a biddy wrestling program to let kids know there is something else to do during the winter. The goal is to get more kids interested in wrestling at a younger age so there will be more participation at the high school level.

"Grease Lightning" strikes

The Drama department, led by Mrs. Linne, performed two successful productions. A Piece of My Heart focused on the sensitive feelings of Vietnam War veterans. In contrast to the serious play, Mansfield Senior was fortunate enough to earn the rights to perform the popular musical Grease.

Having only 7 students perform 13 roles proved to be exhausting for the cast of A Piece of My Heart. Relating to the time period of the war added a challenge to their performance. The cast needed to portray their roles in a very sensitive manner in order for the audience to understand the struggle of the war. John Felton felt that it was a learning experience. After such a successful production, Mrs. Linne commented, "A very special moment occurred after the show when a Vietnam veteran shook my hand with tears in his eyes."

Tears of laughter filled the eyes of many after viewing the fun-loving musical, Grease. The huge amount of talent that auditioned led the directors to a double cast production. Amy Bar-telheim and Monika Butke shared the starring role of the innocent "Sandy." "Rizzo" with the tough attitude was played by Katie Graffice and Andrea Sampsel. Greg Maglott was casted as the dazzling "Danny Zuko." "I had the opportunity to work with all four outstanding actresses," commented Maglott. Grease brought a full house along with standing ovations for all performances.

All cast members from both productions made new friends and gained more theatre experience. However, the time and commitment involved brought on additional stress for some. Actors endured long practices, but the success of the productions made the effort worthwhile.

Tygers make respectable marks

First year coach Shawn Jackson lead the Tygers through many exciting moments. Jackson replied, "The team preformed well and the future looks good due to hard working underclassmen."

Despite having a first year coach the boys showed continuous improvement which lead them to place a solid third in the OHC meet. "A couple of our goals were to compete through districts and regionals and excel to the state meet," replied Capri Pointer. Placing in the OHC conference were John Hess (1st in 300 meter hurdles and 3rd in long jump), Tim Drouhard (1st in 800 meter run), and Adam Burdette (2nd in the 100 meter dash and 3rd in 200 meter dash). The 4x400 meter relay placed first while the 4x100 and the 4x800 relay teams placed second.

"The girls showed area schools that we still have a strong program" remarked Traci Mask. The girls also placed third at the conference meet. Girls placing in the conference meet were Quanita Johnson (1st in shot put and 3rd in discus), Amber Bradford (2nd in shot put),

Monique Brent (1st in 400 meter dash and 1st in 200 meter dash), Davidette Brent (2nd in 800 meter run), Traci Mask (3rd in 100 meter run), and Kari Drouhard (3rd in 3200 meter run). The 4x200 meter relay finished second and the 4x800 meter relay finished third.

The awards banquet marked the end of the season for most of the team. For the boys' team the MVP went to Tim Drouhard. The Most Improved was picked up by Adam Burdette. Adrian Eatmon received the Captain's award and Lashaun Edmonds won the Coaches' award. For the girls' team Monique Brent received the MVP while her sister Davidette Brent captured Most Improved. The Captain's award went to Christine Bonner and Crystal Payne took home the Coaches' award.

Mehock creates a lasting experience

The class of 1998 represented the second year return of the traditional Mehock Relays Assembly. "I was honored to be crowned queen for a revived tradition," replied queen Whitney Braggs. Braggs was escorted by Antwyan Reynolds. Her court included Kim McGinty escorted by Sean Kitzler, Carrie Layfield escorted by Kevin O'Neill, Brandi Thoman escorted by Matt Holiday, and Andrea Sampsel escorted by Ricardo McCrary.

The Mehock Relays is a very prestigious track meet which draws athletes from many surrounding states and Canada. Student Council and the elected court worked hard to put on a successful assembly in honor of the athletes. The committee under the guidance of advisors Mr. and Mrs. Kay chose to decorate in spring pastels and the theme "Memory" was presented by the choir to the queen and her court. First year track coach Shawn Jackson introduced the athletes and their events. Kim McGinty stated, "The excitement of the whole experience was overwhelming."

Sean Kitzler stated that walking into the assembly and feeling the excitement was his special moment. Antwyan Reynolds commented, "In addition to having a good time setting up with the court, I was honored that a friend I have known for so long would ask me to escort her."

Carrie Layfield's highlight was serving on a court with so many of her close friends. This made the preparation and the assembly more meaningful for Layfield. Although Brandi Thoman was extremely nervous, she was proud to represent her class in honor of the relays. Unanimously, the members of the court remarked that having been nominated to represent the student body was a tremendous honor and a memorable moment in their high school careers.

Tygers overcome many challenges

Despite a losing record, the boys' tennis team had a successful season. Contrary to the beliefs of several teams, the Tygers proved to be a legitimate contention. Several members admitted that many teams lacked respect for the Tygers. That, in itself, was motivation to play their best.

The team featured strong senior leadership. Led by four seniors, the Tygers were able to stay motivated throughout the season. Bryan Preston and Chris Stull particularly stood out as leaders. "After our overwhelming loss of seniors, we are going to need an abundance of underclassmen leadership," commented junior standout Jeff Bell.

Although the Tygers finished with a 6-8 record, their focus remained immense which carried them to triumph. Strong friendships bonded the team structure resulting in encouragement and individual strives towards excellence. Tensions and anxiety were relieved while traveling to and from matches in the "tennis mobile".

One of the highlights of the progressive season was the match against St. Peters. The Tygers beat the Spartans for the first time as a team. Chris Stull proclaimed, "It was a close win (3-2). It came down to the last match." Other prominent events included a second place team finish at the OHC and the advancement of the first and second singles (Jeff Bell and Bryan Preston) to the district meet.

Four players received top honors. Bell captured MVP while Adam William took home Most Improved. The Coaches' award went to Bryan Preston and the Captain's award was seized by Chris Stull. Overall, the boys' team concluded the season with satisfaction. They overcame stiff opposition and criticism which led to a prosperous season.

Dedication pushes team to reach goals

The baseball team worked to rebuild. Out of six returning lettermen, two played on the starting line-up. The majority of the players consisted of young and inexperienced underclassmen. "Our main goal was to gain experience and set a foundation for the future," stated Coach Windbigler.

Each player set personal goals to strive for. Josh Brenner wanted to bat over 400 while Jon Sazdanoff hoped to bat 350. Ricky Minard's goal was to make either first or second OHC team. The focus was not to win but to play together and improve every game. "We kept our heads up, tried our best, and stayed dedicated," commented Sazdanoff. "We didn't go down without a fight," added Brenner.

Windbigler handed out many honors. Minard received Most Improved. The Coach's award was presented to Cushing. Steve Ferrell accepted MVP. Batting champ and first team OHC went to Cushing. Ferrell obtained second team OHC while Minard and Goad received honorable mention. In the NorthWest District, Cushing claimed second team and Ferrell was credited for honorable mention.

Coach Windbigler proudly remarked, "They gave a tremendous amount of work effort. For each game they went all out to do the best."

Dedication proved to be a main factor during conditioning. Sazdanoff remarked, "Although the work seemed difficult, the team improved physically from the running and calisthenic activities." Cushing viewed training as a mental challenge. He commented, "The practices taught the team how to feel the ball and enhanced our technique on throwing." Conditioning helped create a strong team and will benefit many well-developed athletes in the next year.

Teamwork boosts Tygers to victory

"You need a whole team that wants to win, not just one or two individuals," remarked senior pitcher Michelle Pina. The Lady Tygers proved their desire to win with their greatly improved record. They went from 8-12 to 13-8 in a year. They attributed their refined record to maturity, effort, and talent. "The team matured and everyone wanted to play together," commented Denita Brown.

Inspirational points of the season were the Shelby and Ashland games. The opening season victory against Shelby proved that they had the talent and determination to go far. "Shelby was the most exciting game. We showed great teamwork and we didn't give up," commented Latacia Boswell.

Ashland, however, proved to be a greater challenge. Although the girls weren't victorious, they gained confidence and respect. They played an errorless game and held the lead until the bottom of the sixth inning.

The team's outstanding record throughout the season gave them reason to expect to go far in districts. "Although our first tournament game proved to be a disappointment, we were extremely confident in our ability to go far," remarked junior Sara O'Bryan.

Pina and Keisha Brooks were awarded the first team all conference award. The second team conference award went to Brand McGathey. Brown and Kary Adams shared honorable mention.

Brooks' .452 batting average (the highest on the team) and her talent on the field earned her the MVP award for the second year in a row. Pina was given the Coaches' award for her pitching ability and attitude on the field. The Captain's award was given to Boswell for her leadership. The girls displayed vigorous team work which led to the season's improved record.

Music department experiences record growth

The music department, once again, had an outstanding year. Senior Maurice Sykes commented, "I want to tell the underclassmen to stick with it (music) and don't give up." Most seniors remarked that their last concerts would serve as their most memorable moments.

Many awards were given to senior band students. Amy Bartelheim, Joe Chinni, and Kevin O'Neil took many honors at the Band awards program. Bartelheim and Chinni received the John Phillips Sousa award which is given to the top senior students. Bartelheim was also awarded the Senior Leadership award while Chinni and O'Neil took home the Louis Armstrong Jazz awards for outstanding performances in the exceedingly popular after-school jazz program. They also received Richland County Jazz Scholarships. The senior musicians honored Mr. Welenc with a framed certificate to show their appreciation for his excellence in teaching.

The choir, like the band, did a phenomenal job in their performances and competitions. "We've become more like a family," commented Tony Allen. "We have a greater passion for the music," added Andrea Sampsel. Things have definitely changed since Brian Nabors came to town. Felicia Romagnoli emphatically replied, "The quality of the singers has gone up." The seniors contributed their success to director Mr. Nabors.

The music department continues to grow and expand. The orchestra, like band and choir, is teaching its students more than how to play an instrument. Monica Butke commented, "It takes a lot of hard work and dedication with very few breaks in between." This hard work paid off when the orchestra went to state competition and received straight one's for their stage performance. This is the best rating a group can receive.

Improvements enhance school publications

Capturing a whole year of activities and documenting each event provided pride to those involved in the yearbook and newspaper staffs. Both classes improved their publications by adding more pages to the yearbook and producing award winning newspapers. In addition, both staffs incorporated increased technology into their publications.

The Hyphonerian completed a total of eight editions beginning in September and ending with the Class Day edition which highlighted the top ten percent of the graduating class. Newspaper advisor Mrs. Kay reported that the switch from one Editor-in-Chief to numerous page editors was key in producing a quality paper on time.

The newspaper staff sent four editions to a journalism contest. They achieved two individual awards in addition to a second place overall award. Amy Kay and Rachel Kranch were the first to ever receive individual awards. Kay took home honorable mention for a cartoon illustration and Kranch achieved an award for an editorial.

Right next door the Manhigan captured all events throughout the school year. The staff took on an exciting but uncertain task of completing the entire yearbook on computer. Senior editors Amy Bartelheim, Angie Chinni, Leah Kolb, Kim McGinty, and Joanne Tiffney were trained on the computer at the start of the school year. After one day of training the editors were left with the challenge of teaching the underclassmen and producing a quality yearbook. Tiffney commented, "Although it was challenging at first, using the computer helped cut down on busy work and allowed us to complete a more creative yearbook." Bartelheim stated, "The computer program made it a less stressful year and we were able to meet all of our deadlines early."

Prom memories will go on

The theme "My Heart Will Go On" fit the prom events perfectly considering the seniors "went on" all night long. The excitement began at the Masonic Temple. Red, black, and gold adorned the walls of the ballroom. Prom goers casted ballots for Prom queen and king. Da'Ren Brooks and Ricardo McCrary took the honors and obtained royalty for the evening. The dance concluded with Monika Butke's solo of the theme song.

Couples continued the fun as they traveled to Park Avenue for dis-glo bowling. Colored lights and music enhanced the enjoyment of the bowlers. The senior class council furnished pizza and drinks as a midnight snack before the party moved to Pickles Along the Tracks.

Karaoke and sand volleyball attracted the survivors of the night. Many competitors displayed their skills on the sand. Others discovered a voice they never knew they had while holding the microphone during the karaoke sessions. Soon after the excitement started to fade, the students fell asleep. Prom-goers retreated to their beds at home.

The class officers, committee members, and advisors produced a successful prom evening. Their goal was to give the seniors an enjoyable evening while maintaining a budget. Class treasurer Joanne Tiffin stated, "I was glad to see the group finally pull together. We worked hard to give our class a fun night."

"Prom was a memorable event to 12 years of school. I didn't know how attached I had become to the officers and the class in general until I realized the students had become young adults" commented class advisor Mr. Sawyer.

Graduates march forward

262 graduates gathered in the auditorium dressed in cap and gown. They prepared to receive honors at their last awards ceremony. Beginning the Class Day assembly was the introduction of valedictorian Megan Frantz and salutatorian Leah Kolb. Both were recipients of the traditional medals.

The students were recognized with a number of scholarships and awards for their achievements. Counselor Mrs. Pam Smith commented, "Over $640,000 in scholarships has been earned by this senior class. This is the largest amount in our school's history."

Concluding the assembly was the passing of the gavel from senior class president Silas Walls to incoming president Jackie Bell. This marked the continuation of leadership and responsibility assumed by the new class leader. "I was pleased with the support of the class of 1998. Serving as class president was a high honor and I am proud to be a graduate of this class" replied Walls.

The graduates had the privilege of an outdoor commencement ceremony. As the graduates marched in, the realization of the day finally sunk in for many. Valedictorian Megan Frantz emphasized the importance of enjoying each moment of life. Incorporated into her speech were the successes of Thomas Edison, Amelia Earhart, and Larry Bird. Salutatorian Leah Kolb's message to her classmates focused on attitude and determination. According to Kolb, both attributes would lead the graduates to success.

The speeches were followed by the acceptance of the class of 1998 by Principal Mr. Smith and the board members. Graduates proceeded forward to receive their much anticipated diplomas. Finally, they marched off the field to "Fanfare and Processional" which marked their last day of high school.

Alexandra Johnson — Congratulations. We hope that your future will hold many wonderful adventures. We are very proud of you!
 Love, Mom and Dad

Sherry Smith —
 It's hard to believe you're all grown up. It seems like only yesterday God gave me a special birthday gift, you!
 Follow your dreams - may they all come true.
 Love, Mom and Dad

Eddie Ward —
 It was twelve exciting years that we will always remember!
 We are very proud of you.
 Love, Mom and Dad

Angela and Joe Chinni — Congratulations on a job well done! We can't begin to tell you how doubly proud we are of you! You have brought us many years of happiness and we are looking forward to many more. Keep up the positive attitude.
 Good luck. We love you!
 Love, Mom and Dad

Stephanie Marchant —
 Congratulations Steph - we are very proud of you!
 Good luck in everything you do in life.
 Love, Mom, Dad, and Seth

Joanne Tiffney —
 I'll love you forever
 I'll like you for always,
 As long as I'm living
 My baby you'll be.
 Love, Mom

Amber Dewiel —
 Best wishes to a girl who has always known her own mind.
 Love, Mom and Dad

Amie Sawyer —
 Amie, hang in there. Soon you'll be wading in it.
 Love, Mom and Dad

Lynn Ricer —
Still as sweet as ever.
Love, Mom and Dad

Shena Marie VanHouten —
To our little "Afrikan Princess" who looks like a queen! You've worked hard - be proud! God really blessed us with such a wonderful daughter as you! We love you!
Love, Momma and Daddy

Chad Hock —
Congratulations, you did it!
Love, Mom

Michelle Medley —
Climb in my cat box and we'll use kittens for mittens.
You're still Daddy's little girl. Love you sis - you did it!

George Cushing —
George, a.k.a. "Chief":

Congratulations! I'm so very proud of you. You're a fine young man. Follow your dreams and you'll go all the way.
Love, Mom

Marie Holbrook —

To Re Re, you were a bud that slowly opened over the years into a beautiful young lady. Stay beautiful inside and out and your life will be a success.
Love, Mom, Dad, AJ, and Yani

Jeffrey Dowdy —
We are so proud of you!
Love, your family

Sylvia Marie Taylor —

Greatest love to you, Sylvia. Many blessings of happiness, good health, and financial prosperity for you and your "future" life and family as you extend your wings into a better world and growing society.
Love, Mom

Gorman-Rupp congratulates....

Everyone at Gorman-Rupp takes this opportunity to compliment the graduating seniors on a job well done. From this milestone on, what you do and what you accomplish will depend largely on you. Lay your plans and then make them happen. With your plans go all our wishes for success and happiness in the years ahead.
